This Summary contains all the Elements required to be included in a summary for this type of securities and Issuers. Because some Elements are not required to be addressed, there may be gaps in the numbering sequence of the Elements. Even though an Element may be required to be inserted in the summary of the programme because of the type of securities and Issuers, it is possible that no relevant information can be given regarding the Element. In this case a short description of the Element is included in the summary of the programme with the mention of not applicable.

SECTION B – ISSUERS AND GUARANTOR

Element
B.1	Legal and commercial name of the Issuers Santander International Debt, S.A.U. (“Santander International”) and Santander Issuances, S.A.U. (“Santander Issuances”) (each an “Issuer” and together the “Issuers”).
B.2	Domicile / legal form / legislation / country of incorporation The registered office address of each of the Issuers is Ciudad Grupo Santander, Avenida de Cantabria s/n, 28660 Boadilla del Monte, Madrid, Spain. Each of the Issuers was incorporated in Spain as a limited liability company (sociedad anónima) for an unlimited duration and is subject to the Consolidated Text of Law on Limited Liability Companies 1/2010 dated 2 July (Texto Refundido de la Ley de Sociedades de Capital) (“Spanish Corporations Law”). Each of the Issuers is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Banco Santander, S.A. (the “Guarantor”). Santander International Debt, S.A.U. was incorporated in Spain by a public deed on 21 April 2004 and registered in the Mercantile Registry of Madrid on 5 May 2004. Santander Issuances, S.A.U. was incorporated in Spain by a public deed executed on 27 February 2004 and registered in the Mercantile Registry of Madrid on 2 March 2004.
B.4b	Trend information The global financial services sector is likely to remain competitive with a large number of financial service providers and alternative distribution channels. Additionally, consolidation in the sector (through mergers, acquisitions or alliances) is likely to occur as other major banks look to increase their market share, combine complementary businesses or strengthen their balance sheets. In addition, regulatory changes will take place in the future that we expect will increase the overall level of regulation in the markets. The following are the most important trends, uncertainties and events that are reasonably likely to have a material adverse effect on the Santander Group or that would cause the disclosed financial information not to be indicative of its future operating results or its financial condition: • a continued downturn in the Spanish and the United Kingdom real estate markets, and a corresponding increase in mortgage defaults, which could impact the Group’s none performing loans and decrease consumer confidence and disposable income; • uncertainties relating to economic growth expectations and interest rates cycles, especially in the United States, Spain, the United Kingdom, other European countries, Brazil and other Latin American countries, and the impact they may have over the yield curve and exchange rates; • the continued effect of the global economic slowdown on Europe and the US and fluctuations in local interest and exchange rates; • continued changes in the macroeconomic environment, such as sustained unemployment above historical levels, could further deteriorate the quality of the Group’s customers’ credit; • increases in the Group’s cost of funding, as a result of the fragility of the Spanish, Portuguese, Irish and Greek economies, further downgrades in our rating or otherwise, could adversely affect the Group’s net interest margin as a consequence of timing differences in the repricing of the Group’s assets and liabilities; • the effects of withdrawal of significant monetary and fiscal stimulus programs and uncertainty over government responses to growing public deficits; • continued instability and volatility in the financial markets;

	• a drop in the value of the euro relative to the US dollar, the sterling pound or Latin American currencies; • inflationary pressures, particularly in Latin America, because of the effect they may have in relation to increases of interest rates and decreases of growth; • increased consolidation of the global financial services sector, which could further reduce the Group's spreads; • although it is foreseeable that entry barriers to domestic markets in Europe will eventually be lowered, the Group's possible plans of expansion into other markets could be affected by regulatory requirements of the national authorities of these countries; • acquisitions or restructurings of businesses that do not perform in accordance with the Group's expectations or that subject the Group to previously unknown risks; • increased regulation, government intervention and new laws prompted by the financial crisis which could change the Group's industry and require it to modify its businesses or operations; and • the risk of further reductions in liquidity and increases of credit spreads as a consequence of the crisis in the financial markets, which could affect not only the Group's cost of funding but also the value of its proprietary portfolios and the assets under the management of the Group.
B.5	Description of the Group Both the Issuers and the Guarantor are part of Santander Group (or, the “Group”). The Issuers are instrumental companies of the Guarantor which is the parent entity of the Santander Group. As of 31 December 2013, the Group was made up of 712 companies that consolidate by the global integration method. In addition, another 191 companies are either affiliate, multi-group or listed companies in which the Group has more than 5% of its share capital. SECTION C – SECURITIES

C.1	Type and class of the Securities The Issuers may issue under the Programme debt instruments up to an aggregate principal amount of EUR 32,000,000,000 (the "Instruments"). Such Instruments may be issued on a continuing basis and will be placed by one or more dealers appointed under the Programme from time to time by the Issuers, which appointment may be for a specific issue or on an on-going basis. Under the Programme, the Issuers may issue fixed, reset or floating rate Instruments, including by reference to an index (equity and inflation indices). The Instruments may be senior Instruments (which are Instruments that can only be issued by Santander International and which specify their status as senior) ("Senior Instruments") or subordinated

	Instruments (being those Instruments that can only be issued by Santander Issuances and which specify their status as subordinated) ("Subordinated Instruments") in each case guaranteed by the Guarantor. Instruments may be issued with any maturity subject to compliance with all applicable legal and/or regulatory and/or central bank requirements. The Instruments will be constituted by virtue of the relevant public deed of issuance to be executed before a Spanish Notary Public and registered with the Mercantile Registry of Madrid on or prior to the issue date. Instruments will be issued in Series. Each Series may comprise one or more Tranches issued on different issue dates. The Instruments of each Series will all be subject to identical terms except that the issue dates and the amount of the first payment of interest may be different in respect of different Tranches. Instruments may be issued in registered form, without interest coupons ("Registered Instruments"), or in bearer form, with or without interest coupons ("Bearer Instruments"). Bearer Instruments will, unless otherwise specified, only be sold outside the United States to non-U.S. persons in reliance on Regulation S and will, unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, initially be represented by a Temporary Global Instruments without interest coupons attached, deposited: (a) in the case of a global instrument which is not intended to be issued in new global note form (a "Classic Global Note" or "CGN"), as specified in the relevant Final Terms, with or on behalf of a Common Depositary located outside the United States for Euroclear S.A./N.V. ("Euroclear") and Clearstream Banking, société anonyme ("Clearstream, Luxembourg", together with Euroclear, the "ICSDs"); or (b) in the case of a global instrument which is intended to be issued in new global note form (a "New Global Note" or "NGN"), as specified in the relevant Final Terms, with a common safekeeper for Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg. Interests in a Temporary Global Instrument will be exchangeable (i) for interests in a permanent global Instrument in bearer form, without coupons (a "Permanent Global Instrument"), or (ii) in whole but not in part for definitive Instruments in bearer form (each, a "Definitive Instrument"), following certification of non-U.S. beneficial ownership as required by U.S. Treasury regulations. Bearer Instruments may be exchangeable for Registered Instruments. Registered Instruments will not be exchangeable for Bearer Instruments. The security identification number (ISIN) of the instruments will be set out in the relevant final terms.
C.2	Currency of the Securities The Instruments may be denominated in any currency subject to compliance with all applicable legal and/or regulatory requirements and/or central bank requirements.
C.5	Restrictions on free transferability The Instruments may not be transferred prior to the issue date. Selling restrictions apply to offers, sales or transfers of the Instruments under the applicable laws in various jurisdictions. A purchaser of the Instruments is required to make certain agreements and representations as a condition to purchasing the Instruments. For each issue of securities a minimum tradeable amount could be set out in the relevant Final Terms. With regards to Spain, the Instruments may not be offered, sold or distributed, nor may any subsequent resale of Instruments be carried out in Spain, except in circumstances which do not constitute a public offer of securities in Spain within the meaning of the Spanish Securities Market Law (Law 24/1988 of 28 July of the Securities Market), as amended and restated, or without complying with all legal and regulatory requirements under Spanish securities laws. SECTION D – RISKS

D.2	Key risks regarding the Issuers and the Guarantor Each Issuer is a finance vehicle established by the Guarantor for the purpose of issuing Instruments under the Programme and on-lending the proceeds within the Santander Group. Each Issuer is therefore dependent upon other members of the Group paying interest on and repaying their loans in a timely fashion. Should any Group member fail to pay interest on or repay any loan in a timely fashion this could have a material adverse effect on the ability of the relevant Issuer to fulfil its obligations under Instruments issued under the Programme. The main risks relating to the Santander Group operation are, amongst others: • Because the Group's loan portfolio is concentrated in Continental Europe, the United Kingdom and Latin America, adverse changes affecting the economies of Continental Europe, the United Kingdom or certain Latin America countries could adversely affect the Group's financial condition. • The Group is vulnerable to disruptions and volatility in the global financial markets. • The Group may suffer adverse effects as a result of the ongoing economic and sovereign debt tensions in the Eurozone. • Exposure to sovereign debt could have a material adverse effect on the Group. • The Group growth, asset quality and profitability in Latin America may be adversely affected by volatile macroeconomic and political conditions. • The Group is exposed to risk of loss from legal and regulatory proceedings. • The Group is subject to substantial regulation which could adversely affect its business and operations. • The Group may not be able to detect money laundering and other illegal or improper activities fully or on timely basis, which could expose the Group to additional liability and could have a material adverse effect on it. • Changes in taxes and other assessments may adversely affect the Group. • Changes in accounting standards could impact reported earnings. • The Group financial statements are based in part on assumptions and estimates which, if inaccurate, could cause material misstatement of the results of the Group operations and financial position. • Disclosure controls and procedures over financial reporting may not prevent or detect all errors or acts of fraud. • Liquidity and funding risks are inherent in the Group's business and could have a material adverse effect on the Group. • Credit, market and liquidity risk may have an adverse effect on the Group's credit ratings and its cost of funds. Any downgrading in the Group's credit rating would likely increase its cost of funding, require the Group to post additional collateral or take other actions under some of the Group's derivative contracts and adversely affect its margins and results of operations. • Failure to successfully implement and continue to improve the Group's risk management policies, procedures and methods, including its credit risk management system, could materially and adversely affect the Group, and the Group may be exposed to unidentified or unanticipated risks. • If the Group is unable to effectively control the level of non-performing or poor credit quality loans in the future, or if the Group's loan loss reserves are insufficient to cover future loan losses, this could have a material adverse effect on the Group. • The Group's loan and investment portfolios are subject to risk of prepayment, which could have a material adverse effect on the Group. • The value of the collateral securing the Group's loans may not be sufficient, and the Group may be unable to realize the full value of the collateral securing its loan portfolio. • The Group is subject to counterparty risk in its banking business. • The Group's financial results are constantly exposed to market risk. The Group is subject to fluctuations in interest rates and other market risks, which may materially and adversely affect the Group. • Market conditions have resulted and could result in material changes to the estimated fair values of the Group's financial assets. Negative fair value adjustments could have a material adverse effect on the Group's operating results, financial condition and prospects. • The Group is subject to market, operational and other related risks associated with the Group's derivative transactions that could have a material adverse effect on the Group. • The financial problems faced by the Group's customers could adversely affect the Group. • Changes in the Group's pension liabilities and obligations could have a material adverse effect on the Group.

	• The Group depends in part upon dividends and other funds from subsidiaries. • Increased competition and industry consolidation may adversely affect the Group's results of operations. • The Group's ability to maintain its competitive position depends, in part, on the success of new products and services the Group offers its clients and the Group's ability to continue offering products and services from third parties, and the Group may not be able to manage various risks its faces as the Group expands its range of products and services that could have a material adverse effect on the Group. • If the Group is unable to manage the growth of its operations this could have an adverse impact on its profitability. • The Group relies on recruiting, retaining and developing appropriate senior management and skilled personnel. • The Group relies on third parties for important products and services. • Damage to the Group's reputation could cause harm to the Group's business prospects. • The Group engages in transactions with its subsidiaries or affiliates that others may not consider to be on an arm's-length basis. • Any failure to effectively improve or upgrade the Group's information technology infrastructure and management information systems in a timely manner could have a material adverse effect on the Group. • Risks relating to data collection, processing and storage systems are inherent in the Group business. • Failure to protect personal information could adversely affect the Group.
D.3	Key risks regarding the Securities There are also risks associated with the Instruments and with the markets. These risks may include, amongst others: • Taxation in Spain: Under Spanish Law, payments of income in respect of the listed Instruments will not be subject to Spanish withholding tax provided that the relevant Issuer or the Guarantor receives certain information concerning the Instruments. If such information is not received by the relevant Issuer or the Guarantor, as the case may, it will be required to apply Spanish withholding tax to any payment of interest in respect of the relevant Instruments, or income arising from the payment of Instruments issued below par; • The US Hiring Incentives to Restore Employment Act withholding may affect payments on the Instruments; • U.S. Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act Withholding; • Withholding under the EU Savings Directive; • The implementation of the EU Crisis Management Directive could materially affect the value of any Instruments. • The temporary Commissioner (which owes certain obligations to the Syndicate of Holders (as described in the Issue and Paying Agency Agreement) will be appointed by the relevant Issuer and may also be an employee or officer of such Issuer or of the Guarantor; • The Spanish Insolvency Law, provides, among other things, that: (i) any claim may become subordinated if it is not reported to the insolvency administrators (administradores concursales) within a certain period, (ii) provisions in a contract granting one party the right to terminate by reason only of the other's insolvency may not be enforceable, and (iii) interest (other than interest accruing under secured liabilities up to an amount equal to the value of the asset subject to the security) shall cease to accrue as from the date of the declaration of insolvency and any amount of interest accrued up to such date (other than any interest accruing under secured liabilities up to an amount equal to the value of the asset subject to the security) shall become subordinated. In addition, recent amendments to the Insolvency Law have been implemented which, in certain instances, have the effect of modifying or impairing creditors' rights; • Prospective investors should make their own evaluations to determine whether an investment in the Instruments is appropriate in their particular circumstances and should consult with their legal, business and tax advisers accordingly; • Instruments issued under the Programme will be new securities which may not be widely distributed and for which there is currently no active trading market; • Instruments may be redeemable at the relevant Issuer's option in certain circumstances. If such option is exercised, an investor may not be able to reinvest the redemption proceeds in a comparable security at an effective interest rate as high as that of the relevant Instruments. • Because the Global Instruments are held by or on behalf of Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg, investors will have to rely on their procedures for transfer, payment and communication with the relevant Issuer and/or the Guarantor; • Instruments subject to optional redemption by the Issuers, which is likely to limit their market value. • In accordance with applicable Spanish Bank of Spain regulations, the Subordinated Instruments may not be early redeemed due to the non-payment of the Subordinated Instruments, or of other debts of the Issuer or of any members of its group.

- The Group may issue Instruments with interest determined by reference to an inflation or equity index (each, a Relevant Index). Potential investors should be aware that the market price of such Instruments may be volatile and that they may receive no interest. In addition, potential investors should be aware that: (i) a Relevant Index may be subject to significant fluctuations that may not correlate with changes in interest rates, currencies or other indices; (ii) if a Relevant Index is applied to Instruments in conjunction with a multiplier greater than one (or contains some other leverage factor) the effect of changes in the Relevant Index on interest payable likely will be magnified; and (iii) the timing of changes in a Relevant Index may affect the actual yield to investors.
- The Issuers may issue Instruments where the issue price is payable in more than one instalment. Failure to pay any subsequent instalment could result in an investor losing all of its interest payments.
- The Issuers may issue Inverse Floating Rate Instruments which have an interest rate equal to a fixed rate minus a rate based upon a reference rate such as LIBOR. The market values of those Instruments typically are more volatile than market values of other conventional floating rate debt securities based on the same reference rate (and with otherwise comparable terms).
- The Issuers may issue Fixed/Floating Rate Instruments. Such Instruments may bear interest at a rate that may convert from a fixed rate to a floating rate, or from a floating rate to a fixed rate. Where the relevant Issuer has the right to effect such a conversion, this will affect the secondary market and the market value of the Instruments since the Issuer may be expected to convert the rate when it is likely to produce a lower overall cost of borrowing.
- The Issuers may issue Instruments at a substantial discount or premium from their principal amount. The market values of such Instruments tend to fluctuate more in relation to general changes in interest rates than do prices for conventional interest-bearing securities.
- The investment in Equity Index-Linked Interest Instruments and Inflation Linked Interest Instruments entails certain risks and it is only suitable for certain potential kind of investors.
- The terms of Equity Index-Linked Interest Instruments and Inflation Linked Interest Instruments differ from those of ordinary debt securities and may not pay interest on maturity, depending on the performance of the relevant underlying Index or Share Index.
- The value of Equity Index-Linked Interest Instruments and Inflation Linked Interest Instruments may be influenced by unpredictable factors beyond the Issuer's and the Guarantor's control.
- There are certain considerations regarding the use of Equity Index-Linked Interest Instruments or Inflation Linked Interest Instruments as hedging instruments involving correlation risks.
- The effect of the liquidity of the relevant underlying Index or Share Index on Equity Index- Linked Interest Instruments and Inflation Linked Interest Instruments pricing.
- Exchange rates and exchange controls may affect the value or return of the Equity Index-Linked Interest Instruments or Inflation Linked Interest Instruments.
- Investors have no shareholder rights.
- Potential conflicts of interest between the investor and the Determination Agent.
- The Determination Agent may determine that a Market Disruption Event or a failure to open of an Exchange or Related Exchange has occurred or exists on a relevant date of valuation, and any consequential postponement of such date of valuation may have an adverse effect on the value of the Instruments.
- When determining the value and/or performance of the relevant underlying Indices or Share Indices in respect of a Series of Equity Index-Linked Interest Instruments or Inflation Linked Interest Instruments may provide for a cap or be subjected to a floor, such that any value and/or performance of the relevant underlying Index or Share Index (or individual basket components) in excess or below the applicable cap or floor, respectively, will not be taken into account for the purposes of the relevant determination.
- Santander Issuances' obligations under Subordinated Instruments will be unsecured and subordinated and will rank junior in priority of payment to all unsubordinated obligations of Santander Issuances. The Guarantor's obligations under the Subordinated Guarantee will be unsecured and subordinated and will rank junior in priority of payment to all unsubordinated obligations of the Guarantor.
- One or more independent credit rating agencies may assign credit ratings to the Instruments. The ratings may not reflect the potential impact of all risks related to structure, market, additional factors discussed above, and other factors that may affect the value of the Instruments. A credit rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold securities and may be revised or withdrawn by the rating agency at any time.

Additionally, the risks relating to investment in the Instruments depend on their features and may include, inter alia, risks

SECTION B – ISSUER AND GUARANTOR

Element
B.1	Legal and commercial name of the Issuer [Santander International Debt, S.A.U./Santander Issuances, S.A.U.]
B.2	Domicile / legal form / legislation / country of incorporation The registered office address of the Issuer is Ciudad Grupo Santander, Avenida de Cantabria s/n, 28660 Boadilla del Monte, Madrid, Spain. The Issuer was incorporated in Spain as a limited liability company (sociedad anónima) for an unlimited duration and is subject to the Consolidated Text of Law on Limited Liability Companies 1/2010 dated 2 July (Texto Refundido de la Ley de Sociedades de Capital) ("Spanish Corporations Law"). The Issuer is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Banco Santander, S.A. (the "Guarantor"). [Santander International Debt, S.A.U. was incorporated in Spain by a public deed on 21 April 2004 and registered in the Mercantile Registry of Madrid on 5 May 2004] / [Santander Issuances, S.A.U. was incorporated in Spain by a public deed executed on 27 February 2004 and registered in the Mercantile Registry of Madrid on 2 March 2004].
B.4b	Trend information The global financial services sector is likely to remain competitive with a large number of financial service providers and alternative distribution channels. Additionally, consolidation in the sector (through mergers, acquisitions or alliances) is likely to occur as other major banks look to increase their market share, combine complementary businesses or strengthen their balance sheets. In addition, regulatory changes will take place in the future that we expect will increase the overall level of regulation in the markets. The following are the most important trends, uncertainties and events that are reasonably likely to have a material adverse effect on the Santander Group or that would cause the disclosed financial information not to be indicative of its future operating results or its financial condition: • a continued downturn in the Spanish and the United Kingdom real estate markets, and a corresponding increase in mortgage defaults, which could impact the Group's none performing loans and decrease consumer confidence and disposable income; • uncertainties relating to economic growth expectations and interest rates cycles, especially in the United States, Spain, the United Kingdom, other European countries, Brazil and other Latin American countries, and the impact they may have over the yield curve and exchange rates; • the continued effect of the global economic slowdown on Europe and the US and fluctuations in local interest and exchange rates; • continued changes in the macroeconomic environment, such as sustained unemployment above historical levels, could further deteriorate the quality of the Group's customers' credit; • increases in the Group's cost of funding, as a result of the fragility of the Spanish, Portuguese, Irish and Greek economies, further downgrades in our rating or otherwise, could adversely affect the Group's net interest margin as a consequence of timing differences in the repricing of the Group's assets and liabilities; • the effects of withdrawal of significant monetary and fiscal stimulus programs and uncertainty over government responses to growing public deficits; • continued instability and volatility in the financial markets; • a drop in the value of the euro relative to the US dollar, the sterling pound or Latin American currencies; • inflationary pressures, particularly in Latin America, because of the effect they may have in relation to increases of interest rates and decreases of growth; • increased consolidation of the global financial services sector, which could further reduce the Group's spreads; • although it is foreseeable that entry barriers to domestic markets in Europe will eventually be lowered, the Group's possible plans of expansion into other markets could be affected by regulatory requirements of the national authorities of these countries; • acquisitions or restructurings of businesses that do not perform in accordance with the Group's expectations or that subject the Group to previously unknown risks; • increased regulation, government intervention and new laws prompted by the financial crisis which could change the Group's industry and require it to modify its businesses or operations; and • the risk of further reductions in liquidity and increases of credit spreads as a consequence of the crisis in the financial markets, which could affect not only the Group's cost of funding but also the value of its proprietary portfolios and the assets under the management of the Group.

SECTION D – RISKS

Element
D.2	Key risks regarding the Issuer and the Guarantor The Issuer is a finance vehicle established by the Guarantor for the purpose of issuing Instruments under the Programme and on-lending the proceeds within the Santander Group. The Issuer is therefore dependent upon other members of the Group paying interest on and repaying their loans in a timely fashion. Should any Group member fail to pay interest on or repay any loan in a timely fashion this could have a material adverse effect on the ability of the Issuer to fulfil its obligations under Instruments issued. The main risks relating to the Santander Group operation are, amongst others:

- Because the Group's loan portfolio is concentrated in Continental Europe, the United Kingdom and Latin America, adverse changes affecting the economies of Continental Europe, the United Kingdom or certain Latin America countries could adversely affect the Group's financial condition.
- The Group is vulnerable to disruptions and volatility in the global financial markets.
- The Group may suffer adverse effects as a result of the ongoing economic and sovereign debt tensions in the Eurozone.
- Exposure to sovereign debt could have a material adverse effect on the Group.
- The Group growth, asset quality and profitability in Latin America may be adversely affected by volatile macroeconomic and political conditions.
- The Group is exposed to risk of loss from legal and regulatory proceedings.
- The Group is subject to substantial regulation which could adversely affect its business and operations.
- The Group may not be able to detect money laundering and other illegal or improper activities fully or on timely basis, which could expose the Group to additional liability and could have a material adverse effect on it.
- Changes in taxes and other assessments may adversely affect the Group.
- Changes in accounting standards could impact reported earnings.
- The Group financial statements are based in part on assumptions and estimates which, if inaccurate, could cause material misstatement of the results of the Group operations and financial position.
- Disclosure controls and procedures over financial reporting may not prevent or detect all errors or acts of fraud.
- Liquidity and funding risks are inherent in the Group's business and could have a material adverse effect on the Group.
- Credit, market and liquidity risk may have an adverse effect on the Group's credit ratings and its cost of funds. Any downgrading in the Group's credit rating would likely increase its cost of funding, require the Group to post additional collateral or take other actions under some of the Group's derivative contracts and adversely affect its margins and results of operations.
- Failure to successfully implement and continue to improve the Group's risk management policies, procedures and methods, including its credit risk management system, could materially and adversely affect the Group, and the Group may be exposed to unidentified or unanticipated risks.
- If the Group is unable to effectively control the level of non-performing or poor credit quality loans in the future, or if the Group's loan loss reserves are insufficient to cover future loan losses, this could have a material adverse effect on the Group.
- The Group's loan and investment portfolios are subject to risk of prepayment, which could have a material adverse effect on the Group.
- The value of the collateral securing the Group's loans may not be sufficient, and the Group may be unable to realize the full value of the collateral securing its loan portfolio.
- The Group is subject to counterparty risk in its banking business.
- The Group's financial results are constantly exposed to market risk. The Group is subject to fluctuations in interest rates and other market risks, which may materially and adversely affect the Group.
- Market conditions have resulted and could result in material changes to the estimated fair values of the Group's financial assets. Negative fair value adjustments could have a material adverse effect on the Group's operating results, financial condition and prospects.
- The Group is subject to market, operational and other related risks associated with the Group's derivative transactions that could have a material adverse effect on the Group. • The financial problems faced by the Group's customers could adversely affect the Group. • Changes in the Group's pension liabilities and obligations could have a material adverse effect on the Group. • The Group depends in part upon dividends and other funds from subsidiaries. • Increased competition and industry consolidation may adversely affect the Group's results of operations. • The Group's ability to maintain its competitive position depends, in part, on the success of new products and services the Group offers its clients and the Group's ability to continue offering products and services from third parties, and the Group may not be able to manage various risks it faces as the Group expands its range of products and services that could have a material adverse effect on the Group. • If the Group is unable to manage the growth of its operations this could have an adverse impact on its profitability. • The Group relies on recruiting, retaining and developing appropriate senior management and skilled personnel. • The Group relies on third parties for important products and services. • Damage to the Group's reputation could cause harm to the Group's business prospects. • The Group engages in transactions with its subsidiaries or affiliates that others may not consider to be on an arm's-length basis. • Any failure to effectively improve or upgrade the Group's information technology infrastructure and management information systems in a timely manner could have a material adverse effect on the Group. • Risks relating to data collection, processing and storage systems are inherent in the Group business. • Failure to protect personal information could adversely affect the Group.

D.3	Key risks regarding the Securities
	There are also risks associated with the Instruments and with the markets. These risks may include, amongst others: • Taxation in Spain: Under Spanish Law, payments of income in respect of the listed Instruments will not be subject to Spanish withholding tax provided that the [relevant] Issuer or the Guarantor receives certain information concerning the Instruments. If such information is not received by the Issuer or the Guarantor, as the case may, it will be required to apply Spanish withholding tax to any payment of interest in respect of the Instruments, [or income arising from the payment of Instruments issued below par]; • The US Hiring Incentives to Restore Employment Act withholding may affect payments on the Instruments; • U.S. Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act Withholding; • Withholding under the EU Savings Directive; • The implementation of the EU Crisis Management Directive could materially affect the value of any Instruments; • The temporary Commissioner (which owes certain obligations to the Syndicate of Holders (as described in the Issue and Paying Agency Agreement) will be appointed by the Issuer and may also be an employee or officer of such Issuer or of the Guarantor; • The Spanish Insolvency Law, provides, among other things, that: (i) any claim may become subordinated if it is not reported to the insolvency administrators (administradores concursales) within a certain period, (ii) provisions in a contract granting one party the right to terminate by reason only of the other's insolvency may not be enforceable, and (iii) interest (other than interest accruing under secured liabilities up to an amount equal to the value of the asset subject to the security) shall cease to accrue as from the date of the declaration of insolvency and any amount of interest accrued up to such date (other than any interest accruing under secured liabilities up to an amount equal to the value of the asset subject to the security) shall become subordinated. In addition, recent amendments to the Insolvency Law have been implemented which, in certain instances, have the effect of modifying or impairing creditors' rights;

- Prospective investors should make their own evaluations to determine whether an investment in the Instruments is appropriate in their particular circumstances and should consult with their legal, business and tax advisers accordingly;
- The Instruments are new securities which may not be widely distributed and for which there is currently no active trading market;
- [The Instruments may be redeemable at the Issuer's option in certain circumstances. If such option is exercised, an investor may not be able to reinvest the redemption proceeds in a comparable security at an effective interest rate as high as that of the relevant Instruments;]
- Because the Global Instruments are held by or on behalf of Euroclear and/or Clearstream, [Luxembourg], investors will have to rely on their procedures for transfer, payment and communication with the Issuer and/or the Guarantor;
- Instruments subject to optional redemption by the Issuers, which is likely to limit their market value;
- [Applicable in case of Subordinated Instruments]: [In accordance with applicable Spanish Bank of Spain regulations, the Subordinated Instruments may not be early redeemed due to the non-payment of the Subordinated Instruments, or of other debts of the Issuer or of any members of its group].
- [Applicable to Equity or Inflation Index Linked Instruments] [The Group may issue Instruments with interest determined by reference to an inflation or equity index (each, a Relevant Index). Potential investors should be aware that the market price of such Instruments may be volatile and that they may receive no interest. In addition, potential investors should be aware that: (i) a Relevant Index may be subject to significant fluctuations that may not correlate with changes in interest rates, currencies or other indices; (ii) if a Relevant Index is applied to Instruments in conjunction with a multiplier greater than one (or contains some other leverage factor) the effect of changes in the Relevant Index on interest payable likely will be magnified; and (iii) the timing of changes in a Relevant Index may affect the actual yield to investors.]
- [Applicable in case of Instruments where the issue price is payable in more than one instalment.] [Failure to pay any subsequent instalment could result in an investor losing all of their investment.]
- [Applicable in case of Inverse Floating Rate Instruments]: [Inverse Floating Rate Instruments have an interest rate equal to a fixed rate minus a rate based upon a reference rate such as LIBOR. The market values of those Instruments typically are more volatile than market values of other conventional floating rate debt securities based on the same reference rate (and with otherwise comparable terms).]
- [Applicable in case of Fixed/Floating Rate Instruments]: [The Issuer issues [Fixed/Floating Rate] Instruments. The Instruments may bear interest at a rate that may convert from a fixed rate to a floating rate, or from a floating rate to a fixed rate. Where the Issuer has the right to effect such a conversion, this will affect the secondary market and the market value of the Instruments since the Issuer may be expected to convert the rate when it is likely to produce a lower overall cost of borrowing.]
- [Instruments that are issued at a substantial discount or premium from their principal amount.] [The market values of such Instruments tend to fluctuate more in relation to general changes in interest rates than do prices for conventional interest-bearing securities.]
- [Applicable in case of Inflation/Equity Index Linked Interest Instruments]: [The investment in Equity Index-Linked Interest Instruments and Inflation Linked Interest Instruments entails certain risks and it is only suitable for certain potential kind of investors.]

- [Applicable in case of Inflation/Equity Index Linked Interest Instruments]: [The terms of Equity Index-Linked Interest Instruments and Inflation Linked Interest Instruments differ from those of ordinary debt securities and may not pay interest on maturity, depending on the performance of the relevant underlying Index or Share Index.]
- [Applicable in case of Inflation/Equity Index Linked Interest Instruments]: [The value of Equity Index-Linked Interest Instruments and Inflation Linked Interest Instruments may be influenced by unpredictable factors beyond the Issuer's and the Guarantor's control.]
- [Applicable in case of Inflation/Equity Index Linked Interest Instruments]: [There are certain considerations regarding the use of Equity Index-Linked Interest Instruments or Inflation Linked Interest Instruments as hedging instruments involving correlation risks.]
- [Applicable in case of Inflation/Equity Index Linked Interest Instruments]: [The effect of the liquidity of the relevant underlying Index or Share Index on Equity Index- Linked Interest Instruments and Inflation Linked Interest Instruments pricing.]
- [Applicable in case of Inflation/Equity Index Linked Interest Instruments]: [Exchange rates and exchange controls may affect the value or return of the Equity Index-Linked Interest Instruments or Inflation Linked Interest Instruments.]
- Investors have bi shareholders rights.
- Potential conflicts of interest between the investor and the Determination Agent may arise.
- The Determination Agent may determine that a Market Disruption Event or a failure to open of an Exchange or Related Exchange has occurred or exists on a relevant date of valuation, and any consequential postponement of such date of valuation may have an adverse effect on the value of the Instruments.
- [Applicable in case of Subordinated Instruments]: [When determining the value and/or performance of the relevant underlying Indices or Share Indices in respect of a Series of Equity Index-Linked Interest Instruments or Inflation Linked Interest Instruments may provide for a cap or be subjected to a floor, such that any value and/or performance of the relevant underlying Index or Share Index (or individual basket components) in excess or below the applicable cap or floor, respectively, will not be taken into account for the purposes of the relevant determination..]
- [Applicable in case of Subordinated Instruments]: [Santander Issuances' obligations under Subordinated Instruments will be unsecured and subordinated and will rank junior in priority of payment to all unsubordinated obligations of Santander Issuances. The Guarantor's obligations under the Subordinated Guarantee will be unsecured and subordinated and will rank junior in priority of payment to all unsubordinated obligations of the Guarantor.]
- One or more independent credit rating agencies have assigned certain credit ratings to the Instruments. The ratings may not reflect the potential impact of all risks related to structure, market, additional factors discussed above, and other factors that may affect the value of the Instruments. A credit rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold securities and may be revised or withdrawn by the rating agency at any time.

Additionally, the risks relating to investment in the Instruments depend on their features and may include, inter alia, risks relating to (but not limited to) operational/business risk, credit risk, liquidity risk, interest rate risk, regulatory risk, reputational risk, competition risk, unsecured obligations, market risk, hedging and potential conflicts of interest, tax liabilities, expenses and taxation, third party risk, structural risks relating to particular Instruments, including with respect to certain underlying, no claim against the reference item(s) to which the Instruments relate, exchange rate risks, settlement disruption, illegality and cancellation, time lag after redemption or exercise, settlement risk, possible illiquidity of Instruments, equity risk, underlying volatility risk, fund risk, failure to deliver due to illiquidity, inflation risk, modification, meetings, market disruption, optional redemption, a requirement to hold a minimum amount of Instruments, transfer restrictions and exchange, listing and legal regulation risk.

D.6	Risk Warning [Issue Specific Summary: This Element D.6 only to be included where the Instruments are derivative securities for the purpose of Commission Regulation (EC) No. 809/2004 (as amended)] - the Instruments issued under this Base Prospectus, including Structured Instruments, cannot have a negative yield for the investor. The Structured Instruments return is linked to the performance of one or more underlying (such as indices, or baskets of indices); - the Issue Price of the Instruments may be more than the market value of such Instruments as at the Issue Date, and the price of the Instruments in secondary market transactions; and - if the relevant Instruments include leverage, potential holders of such Instruments should note that these Instruments will involve a higher level of risk. Investors should therefore only invest in leveraged Instruments if they fully understand the effects of leverage.
